

"FESTIVAL OF OLD INSTRUMENTS" 12/05/09

"Festival of Old Instruments"

Where: The "Mary Martha Parlor" at All Saints Church, 3888 East Lyman, Winter Park.

When: Saturday December 5, 2009 from 5:00- 6:30 p.m.

Fee: To register a participating student is $5.00. Please download the registration page found in the on-line handbook. Mail in one check covering the fees for all students to: Christine Ahrens, 11 South Lawsona Blvd., Orlando , 328043112.

Donations: Gratefully received at the door. This is to cover the cost of transportation of instruments, and tuning.

Imagine the joy of discovering how Bach's music sounds on a real harpsichord or a real chamber organ? Picture the delight on your student's face when hearing how charming a Clementi or Mozart piece sounds when played on an original Square Piano. These three instruments from the Baroque and Early Classical era will be waiting for you to experience! Join us for a festive Christmas time of old music and refreshments this December 5th. Students of all ages and ability are welcome to attend and participate.

Because this such a popular and festive event, all parents are encouraged to bring a plate of treats to share in the reception.

Last season over 20 compositions were performed at this successful event. Parents and students were thrilled to have such a rare opportunity. Don't miss out this season!
Deadline: November 26, 2009.

Jean Thomas, age 10, performing Bach on the harpsichord, April 19, 2009.
